

What Makes a Life Valuable?

"God created human beings: he created them godlike, reflecting God's nature. He created them male and female."

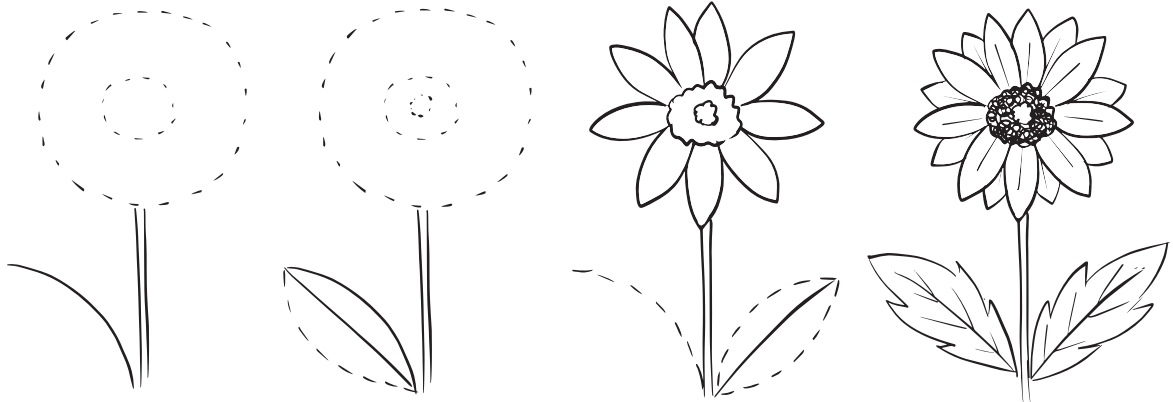

GENESIS 1:27 (MSG)

"The desire to create is one of the deepest yearnings of the human soul."

While the existence of all living things is miraculous, the human soul is made with exceptional value. Every life is parceled with worth, simply because of its astounding creation. There are many aspects of human life that separate us from animals and plants that make us intrinsically valuable. We alone are made in God's image. This doesn't necessarily mean that we look like God, but that we possess some of His attributes. Humans appreciate beauty, and we have a conscience. These things make us distinctly human, in God's image.
